Visiting Research Fellowship

Topic

Fellows should be working on projects that involve the scholarly study of religion in relation to any aspect of society and culture, both contemporary and historical. This includes, but is not limited to, critical examinations of religious themes in the areas of ethics, health, environment, public policy, technology, human conflict, art, literature, the media, law, philosophy or the natural sciences.

Applications from all disciplinary backgrounds are welcome.

Eligibility

Canadian and international scholars; graduate students; post-doctoral fellows; emeritus scholars; new scholars; and scholars on sabbatical leave from regular academic appointments.

Value

Office space at the CSRS on the University of Victoria campus; access to UVic's libraries and special collections; enhanced opportunities for research networking and exchange. Fellows will have access to a mailbox located in the CSRS, fax, scanner, and photocopier services, and opportunities to participate in all CSRS social and academic activities.

Applicants may be eligible for a travel bursary of up to $1500CAD. Otherwise this is a non-stipendiary appointment, with no cash value. Successful applicants must secure their own research funding to cover other costs associated with visa applications, health insurance, and accommodations.
