

NEW UNDERGRADUATE COURSE THE HOLOCAUST

RELS 2045
Fall 2022

This course provides an interdisciplinary account of the Holocaust by examining historical narratives along with diverse primary and secondary sources. Students will learn about the initial discriminatory policies and political ideology that quickly resulted in the systematic massacre of over six million Jews and others at the hands of the Nazis and their collaborators. Throughout the semester, students will reflect on the impact the Holocaust continues to have on the contemporary world with emphasis on Canadian society.

Class Times: Tuesdays 6:00 pm - 8:50 pm

Course Start Date: September 13, 2022

Delivery: Synchronous Online via Zoom and Blackboard
