

THE BIBLE: AN INTRODUCTION

32-Hour Course
IN-PERSON

This course provides a critical introduction to the historical, literary, and theological aspects of the Bible. It will survey the central characters and events of the biblical text, examine the variety of genres found in the Bible, and discuss its key theological themes from an academic perspective. Students will be introduced to methods of biblical criticism and interpretation that integrate skills developed in other disciplines, such as critical thinking and logical analysis of moral systems and their historical contexts. The course does not presuppose any belief in or knowledge of the Bible.
